German course for Parents and Children

Migrants with limited German language skills are encouraged for improved integration. Through basic German language training, parents can gain confidence in everyday interactions with others and institutions. Their children have the opportunity to socialize with peers, fostering the development of essential social skills. This aims to facilitate their transition to playgroups and kindergarten.

Where Begegnungszentrum
Freiburgstrasse 10
3175 Flamatt

When Every Monday (except
during school holidays)
09:00 AM – 11:00 AM

Contact Elly Schaible-El-Attar
(076 602 10 77)

Intercultural German Café

The Intercultural German Café aims to provide all women, regardless of their native language or nationality, with the opportunity to regularly practice the German language. It serves not only as language support but also as a platform for social networking and the promotion of shared values. Everyday situations, current topics and questions are discussed over coffee and cake with German-speaking women, allowing for the practical application of German language skills. A free childcare service is available during the café sessions.

Where Begegnungszentrum
Freiburgstrasse 10
3175 Flamatt

When Every Monday (except

Parental Guide Letters – Pro Juventute

The Pro Juventute Parental Guide Letters accompany parents during the first six years of their child's life. These letters, presented in a concise and informative manner, provide useful information and practical tips tailored to the child's age.

The Parental Guide Letters are printed brochures that are regularly delivered to you by post. Additionally, the letters for the first year of life are also available in digital form in various municipalities' websites.

The municipality of Wünnewil-Flamatt covers the costs of the Parental Guide Letters for new parents.
